

An Address to the Nation, on the Relative Importance of Agriculture and Manufactures

By -

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 56 pages. Original publisher: Washington, D. C. : U. S. General Accounting Office, 2001 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)48586732 Subject: Educational vouchers -- Ohio -- Cleveland. Excerpt: . . . Cleveland program, a key provision is the use of a random selection process when the number of eligible applicants exceeds the number of spaces a school has designated for students. Each school has discretion in setting the number of voucher students it will accommodate in each grade and must specify this number at the time it notifies the state of its intent to participate in the program. Each school must also submit an annual written plan describing its intended method for randomly selecting voucher students when the number of applicant voucher students exceeds the number of available spaces allocated for them. As in Cleveland, the extent to which schools have used random selection is unknown because schools are not required to report on its use. The school must accept all eligible applicants if space is available. In addition, schools cannot select students on the basis of race, religion, gender, prior achievement, or prior behavioral records. Continuing students and their siblings...

READ ONLINE
[4.57 MB]

Reviews

It becomes an remarkable publication that we have at any time study. It is among the most remarkable pdf i have go through. I am just easily can get a satisfaction of reading a published book.

-- Alayna Ankunding DVM

Very good e-book and beneficial one. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I am effortlessly could get a pleasure of looking at a written book.

-- Alphonso Beahan